THE NORTHERN IRELAND
YEARBOOK

This is the seventh edition of the Northern Ireland Football Yearbook, which is now widely acknowledged by football writers, administrators and fans throughout the Province as the essential guide to have on Irish League football.

Once again the publishers, Tudor Journals Ltd, have done a wonderful job in maintaining the high standards they have set in previous years and my thanks goes to Bill Campbell and his team for their continued support and professionalism.

As always I am indebted to UTV and Mike McCann in particular for sponsoring the Yearbook for a fourth consecutive year, their coverage of Irish League football is second to none and hopefully the publication will help make life a little bit easier for Linda Brien and Co. in the coming season.

Whether the first season of Promotion and Relegation was a success is debatable. The Premier League clubs seemed to be content with new format. However for First Division clubs it was a season of unmitigated struggle with a number of teams admitting to be so much in debt that they were in danger of folding. Fundamental changes, in my view, are needed in the structure of the two Divisions, with hopefully a two tier system with ten clubs in each Division being the answer. Whatever the outcome of the Irish Football League meeting is it may already be too late for some teams in the Irish League.

On the International front, Bryan Hamilton made steady progress with a young and still relatively inexperienced team. N.Ireland only just missed out in qualifying for EURO 96 and finished off their group with a truly magnificent performance against Austria at Windsor Park. A creditable draw with Germany in May provided the team with further evidence of their progress and was a real confidence booster for the forthcoming World Cup Qualifiers. Realistically N.Ireland chances of making it to France are slim with only one team sure to qualify from the group, but I'm forever the optimist and as Jimmy Greaves says.....

IRISH LEAGUE CLUB SECTION

This year each of the sixteen clubs have been allocated seven pages. Information for each club includes:

- * Details of Club Personnel
- * Review of the Season
- * Team Photograph for 1995/96
- * Manager Profile
- * Results and Line-Ups for all Smirnoff Premier League or First Division matches 1995/96
- * Transfers during 1995/96
- * List of Honours
- * Player Profiles
- * Complete Appearances and Goalscorers for 1995/96

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Within the line-ups pages in the Club Section an asterisk (*) a cross (†) and a circle (o) indicates which players were replaced by substitutes.

In the Appearances and Goalscorers pages, appearances as substitute are shown in brackets thus 3+(2) indicates that the player concerned made three full appearances and two as substitute.

Penalty goals are indicated in brackets, prefixed with the letter 'p'; thus 5(2p) shows that five goals were scored of which two were penalties.

Abbreviations used within the Appearances and Goalscorers page and elsewhere in the book are as follows:

- UC - Ulster Cup
- GC - Sun Life Gold Cup
- ILC - Wilkinson Sword Irish League Cup
- CC - Coca-Cola Cup
- BIC - Bass Irish Cup
- CAS - Calor County Antrim Shield
- PL - Premier League
- FD - First Division
- INC - Irish News Cup
- MUC - McEwans Mid-Ulster Cup
- NWC - North West Senior Challenge Cup
- CS - McEwans Charity Shield
- CWC - European Cup Winners-Cup
- UEF - UEFA Cup
- BRC - Bob Radcliffe Cup
- IC - McEwans Intermediate Cup
- SKC - Smirnoff 'B' Division Knockout Cup
- SS - Calor Steel & Sons Cup
- NWIC - North West Intermediate Cup

All information within the Club Section is correct up until the end of 1995/96.

PLAYERS DIRECTORY

As ever I have tried to improve the Players Directory to include as many details as possible on the 500 or so players who appeared in the Irish League during 1995/96. I have endeavoured this year to include transfer information up until the end of August 1996 so as to keep the Directory as up to date as possible for the 1996/97 season. Below is an example of what information is contained for most players.

BARKER, Ritchie (F) (LINFIELD)

Born: 30.05.1975 Sheffield

Ht: 6.1 Wt: 13.05

Status: Professional

Career: Sheffield Wednesday (Jul.'93) 0 - 0; Doncaster Rovers (Sep.'95) 5+1 - 0; Ards (Jan.'96 loan) 7 - 3; Linfield (Aug.'96):

Int.Hon: England U.18; U.15:

Unfortunately there are players throughout the directory whose details were not available to me, so if any player wants their details included in full in next years edition please get in touch.

NB: I have only included League appearances and goals for each player and not that of the many Cup Competitions played throughout the season. League details are collated from my own records so if they differ from other sources please get in contact with me.

INTERNATIONAL PLAYERS DIRECTORY

This is a new feature within this years edition. The format used is along the same lines as the Irish League Players directory, except I have included transfer fees for all players.

I have only included players who are regular members of the current International squad and those who play regular first team football with English or Scottish League clubs. At the end of the Directory I have included a selection of younger players attached to English and Scottish clubs and who are probably on the verge of a first team breakthrough during the forthcoming season.

'B' DIVISION CLUB SECTION

As space within the Yearbook is always tight the decision was made to cut the pages allocated to 'B' Division clubs from three to two. Therefore included in this Section for each club is the following:

- * Details of Club Personnel
- * Team Photographs for 1995/96 (where available)
- * Playing Staff for 1995/96
- * List of Honours
- * Transfers during 1995/96
- * Results and Goalscorers for all League and Cup matches for 1995/96
- * List of Goalscorers

Unfortunately goalscorers in certain matches for Ballymoney United, Brantwood, Cookstown United and Tobermore United have not been located and also not every club had a team photograph taken. Anyone wishing to help with supplying either information or photographs for any 'B' Division Club please contact me direct.

NB: Again all information is correct up until the end of 1995/96.

The remainder of the book should be self explanatory. If anyone notices any errors or omissions within the Yearbook, I would appreciate the feedback to where corrections should be made and these will be corrected in the next edition.

Surely an Irish Football League programme has never been looked forward to with such a mixture of emotions than the season of 1995/96.

The Irish league decision to introduce a two-tier structure divided opinion across the Province, but while almost certainly it will be revised to some degree next year there can be no doubt that after the thrills and excitements of last season P and R is here to stay. In the Premier League every game was a big game, every point vital, and every week seemed to bring a new twist.

Eight sides had been designated into an elite section, and if we thought Crusaders' triumph in the Championship in 1995 had been spectacular, what was to unfold in the dramatic final weeks of the first-ever Premier campaign was enthralling, as nerve-tangling and compelling a climax to a year of exciting football as we have ever witnessed - and it was followed, we know, by tens of thousands of fans on UTV, the football channel.

Crusaders, Glenavon and Linfield were in early non-domestic action, UEFA Cup competition demanding that Roy Walker, Nigel Best and Trevor Anderson had their troops ready for European combat in early August. Crusaders and Linfield made brave but early exits, but Mourneview Park ambitions for 1995/96 were boosted by an excellent win over Icelandic opposition and then a glamour fixture with German giants Werder Bremen.

The visitors showed their technical precision in the first leg in Lurgan, and in Bremen the style was added in superb fashion as 'super Mario' Basler and the magnificent Bode set up a 5-0 win. But Glenavon had been no 'cannon fodder' in either match, and Dermot O'Neill, Lee Doherty, Mark Glendinning, Stevie McBride and Glenn Ferguson never looked out of place on such a stage.

But soon it was back to the urgent business back home, and there was as much action in the committee rooms and in the courts as there was on the pitch as the IFL Cup competitions got underway. Glenavon and Portadown were at the centre of several controversies.

Marc Kenny found himself unwittingly at the eye of a long-running storm over his eligibility. The Dubliner - having managed to arrive at Mourneview via Coleraine without ever kicking a ball for the Bannside! — was then told a ban picked up at Clondeboy Park had not been properly fulfilled, and a semantic and legal argument ensued which brought little credit, but a lot of headlines, to Northern Ireland soccer. That delayed the Gold Cup competition, while over at Shamrock Park another eligibility row was brewing. The gifted teenager Gareth Fulton was, said the Irish League, not properly registered, so the Ulster Cup was thrown into chaos, with - at one stage - no fewer than six teams claiming a semi-final berth! That too was eventually 'sorted', but the UTV cameras seemed to have taken up permanent residence outside Irish League and IFA headquarters so enduring were these problems.

The Ports had already featured in the pre-season anticipation, Garry Haylock's sensational transfer of allegiance from Linfield causing a rift between the clubs which was only partially healed when, after months of argument, Portadown paid a nominal fee for the most feared striker in the League. Haylock had insisted he was a free agent in the summer of 1995, and Linfield felt it had been cheated of its most valuable asset.

Eventually the football got underway, and Cup competitions suggested that the Mid-Ulster 'Big Two' and, perhaps, a highly motivated Crusaders were the sides to watch in the new Premier League, in which every goal was recorded by UTV's unprecedented coverage. But Tommy Cassidy was gradually reshaping Glentoran, Trevor Anderson was rebuilding at Windsor Park, and Roy Coyle, Marty Quinn and Paul Malone probably would have accepted that survival in the treacherous Premier League waters was the priority at Ards, Cliftonville and Bangor respectively.

In the First Division the incentive was clear - promotion back into the 'major league', and pre-season favourites were Ballymena, where Alan Fraser had expensively revamped United. Distillery, Coleraine and, just possibly, Omagh Town, where Roy McCreddie had already conjured miracles despite poor support and a necessity to draw on players from the North and West of the Province.

It was the financial imperatives at St Julian's Road which were to pervade the First Division campaign and to leave an enduring legacy, particularly at Omagh, Newry and at East Antrim's triumvirate of Larne, Carrick Rangers and Ballyclare Comrades, where Alan Campbell was back in management.

In the early weeks the leadership of both sections changed as often as the weather, but by December a certain pattern was emerging. As predicted Portadown never dropped 'off the pace' and Glenavon had the firepower, and now the defensive organisation, to be real Championship contenders.

But Crusaders' defiant defence of a title won with such spirit was really eye-catching. The side was often convincing, and even on an 'off day' the ability to grind out a result made them a team to fear. Linfield's up-and-down form continued to frustrate the Windsor faithful and the management, and Glentoran surely were non-runners given the surgery Cassidy was involved with at the Oval.

Christmas and the New Year provided a feast of frantic, exciting fare for the big Premier League crowds the League had hoped for, and as 1996 dawned Portadown, Glenavon and Crusaders were involved in an enthralling battle for supremacy. Crusaders, with Stephen Baxter, Sid Burrows, Kevin McKeown and Glenn Dunlop reprising their heroics of the previous season, had the edge in consistency. Glenavon could be thrilling but inconsistent, and though Ronnie McFall had Gary Peebles, Haylock and particularly Peter Kennedy in devastating form the team could still manage to summon surprise failure out of expected triumph.

Who would have imagined that genuine title contenders could concede seven goals to fierce 'derby rivals Glenavon and still stay in contention?

Linfield revived briefly in January without ever really threatening the cartel developing at the top. Liam Coyle had arrived at the Oval, scoring spectacularly on his debut, only to go 'absent without leave' immediately, providing the season with another off-field 'cameo' to keep our viewers entertained and mystified.

A late-night summit meeting with manager Cassidy, a public proclamation on UTV Live of his allegiance to the 'Cock 'n Hens', and Coyle, surely the classiest 'act' in the country, was back in the Oval fold. Slowly but surely the Glens were developing into a major force, but the Championship was never a realistic target in 1996.

A titanic struggle in the Premier League, but by February its first 'P and R' recruit was already decided. Kenny Shiels had survived an attempted boardroom 'coup' in the autumn, been sacked and reinstated in the time it takes to draw breath, and his players responded with a seventeen-match run which relegated the rest of the First Division to also-rans. It was a spectacularly decisive First Division title victory, Sammy Shiels and Tony 'Stormin' Gorman leading actors as the opposition crumbled, with Pat McAllister's arrival from Cliftonville perhaps the key to Coleraine's barnstorming success.

The focus was now almost entirely on the Premier League. Into April, and the Easter holiday programme couldn't separate Crusaders and Portadown, these two now clearly the principals. Odd points were dropped, but neither could really seize the advantage. The Ports and the Cruces looked set for a last-day-of-the-season showdown at Seaview, the victors there destined to be the first premier League champions.

But then Roy Walker's team slipped up at Solitude, where Marty Quinn had consolidated the Reds' future in the top flight and, to the delight of many neutrals, brought the club its first trophy in a decade with a splendidly attractive Coca-Cola Cup triumph.

On that same penultimate afternoon Glenavon went to Shamrock Park and looked set to undermine their greatest rivals, only for the almost forgotten Ian Ferguson to conjure up three points which brought the title, suddenly and surprisingly, to Portadown. Ronnie McFall, veteran of so many campaigns and the wildest manager of them all, had invested heavily and reaped a lucrative dividend!

A season which had provided some marvelously exciting soccer for the crowds and, through UTV Live and Saturday Sport, enjoyed the highest-ever profile for the game, had gone virtually 'to the wire'.

In our annual review of the local soccer year in 'The League', the moments which shaped a footballing season were remembered in front of an audience which included the players, managers and administrators who had taken centre stage. The big occasions were revisited, and Glen Dunlop heard Tommy Docherty acclaim his exceptional strike as 'Goal of the Season'.

The winners were there in Studio One, and losers of a sort too. Paul Malone had decided he couldn't harness the resources he needed to stave off relegation for Bangor, and he gave way to Andy Dougan and George Dunlop, while Billy Hamilton's cheery reign at Distillery ended amicably, the former international striker allowing Paul Kirk to show his mettle at New Grosvenor this season.

Assistant manager Lindsay McKeown was a casualty of Linfield's barren season, but how long before this colourful and vibrant stalwart returns to brighten our afternoons - and screens! - with that unmistakable trademark hairstyle!

Peter Watson reluctantly left Newry, unable to get the cash or the players to realise his ambitions for the club. Colin Crawford and Alan Campbell saw enough at Carrick Rangers and Ballyclare to hint at better times ahead.

And now, with even greater anticipation, we all look forward to 1996/97 and a whole new series of surprises and dramas, triumphs and minor disasters. So, keep right up-to-date with the news, the views and the action right from the 'kick-off' have Marshall Gillespie's superb Northern Ireland Football Yearbook by your side as the soccer stories of 1996/97 unfold in UTV Live and on Saturday Sport. On UTV of course, the football channel.

UTV Sport is delighted yet again to have joined forces with Marshall Gillespie in his annual tour de force, The Northern Ireland Football Yearbook.

This is the seventh edition of what has become the definitive guide to Irish League soccer, and Marshall's tireless harnessing of all there is that's worth knowing about the game here never fails to impress the reader. We at UTV Sport like so many of you at home, find that the Yearbook is not just essential reading but a thoroughly entertaining companion throughout what is a packed programme of domestic League and Cup competition.

UTV's commitment to local soccer was expanded even further last season, with our UEFA Cup travels with Glenavon, and with even more cameras being employed each week to provide comprehensive coverage of the first inaugural season of Premier League and First Division football. On UTV Live at Six the game received unprecedented attention, and every weekend the afternoon action was brought first to your screens by the Saturday Sport team.

In the Yearbook Marshall brings all the highlights of the 1995/96 season vividly back to life, his narrative complemented by a statistical record which will solve those good-natured arguments amongst fans and add to everyone's fund of knowledge about a sport which has never enjoyed such a high profile.

We know that our extended highlights coverage of the end-of-season Premier League race was widely appreciated by supporters of football in Northern Ireland, and UTV Sport is determined to maintain and even advance its initiatives in promoting 'the beautiful game'.

Of course we will continue to bring you the stories of the day on UTV Live, and profile the players, the managers and the issues which, together, make soccer in the Province so vibrant. Ronnie McFall's Portadown knows it will face even more determined challenges in 1996/97, with Nigel Best sworn to wrestling the championship away from Glenavon's Mid-Ulster rivals.

Marshall Gillespie gives you all the background to the key figures and the clubs which make Northern Ireland football 'tick'. The Yearbook is no mere statistical reference point, it is an authoritative guide to the domestic game without which no self-respecting UTV Sport viewer would feel complete!

The UTV Sport team will keep you ahead of the news and the action each day and on Saturdays, and the Northern Ireland Football Yearbook is a splendid addition to your sporting library which in its attention to detail and clear affection for the game reflects and endorses the commitment to the game of UTV, the football channel.

Linda Brien — Sports Editor, UTV

FOREWORD BY JIM MAGILTON

When approached by Marshall to write a Foreword for his excellent yearbook, I have to be honest and admit I did not know of the book's existence. However, having studied the publication in detail I was amazed by the amount of detail Marshall had gone into on not only the local soccer scene but the International front as well.

The Yearbook in my opinion is on a par with any of the numerous publications which cover the game in England and Marshall should be proud of the contribution he is making in promoting Irish League soccer in not just Northern Ireland but throughout the UK as well.

Having played briefly with Distillery in the Irish League myself it was interesting to browse through the Players Directory and come across players I have known and how they have progressed over the years.

With so many of the present day International team having started their careers in the Irish League I am sure this book will be of immense interest to them.

Congratulations to Marshall for yet another superb publication and I for one will be taking it with me on my International trips abroad to wile away the hours.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Coming to the end of season 1994/95 there was more than a little optimism at Castlereagh Park. For the second season in succession manager Roy Coyle had guided Ards to a trophy - the League Cup, and even better than that a place in the new Premier League had been 'grabbed'.

'Grabbed' in style in fact because seasons of sixth place and then fourth place put out hopes that Ards could not only hold their own in the Premier League but also even emerge as "dark horses" in the race for the inaugural Championship.

Things though began to go 'downhill' in the summer even before the 95/96 season had begun. 'Player of the Year' Kevin Brady, decided that a club near his Dublin home would suit him better so he left for Bohemians.

He had been the lynchpin of the defence and he was soon followed by ace striker Darren Erskine - and if there was some joy that Ards had been awarded £35,000 by a League Tribunal for his move to Linfield, thought of spending that money soon disappeared.

Coyle might have hoped for a large chunk to re-build his side after arguably losing his top two players but financial problems with Ards meant the money went elsewhere and the manager ended up spending the princely sum of £5,000 all season!! So what happened on the field afterwards can hardly have been too surprising - a vintage season it was not, forgettable in fact in very many ways but at least and perhaps amazingly Coyle managed to organise and motivate his low-cost outfit to keep them in the Premier League at Bangor's expense.

Dublin Junior player Dwaine Shanley strengthened the squad early on, Michael Boyle arrived from Larne in a swap for David Straney and in September Glentoran veteran Barney Bowers arrived for that £5,000 fee.

Results weren't too good though. The League Cup was surrendered at home to First Division Coleraine in the second round. Ards were non-qualifiers in both the Ulster Cup and Gold Cup, and before Christmas there was a second round Co.Antrim Shield exit to Crusaders - also at Castlereagh Park.

The Premier League had begun with on-loan Scot Pat Flannery threatening to have a great season but Ards had to wait until their eighth game for a win (3-0 at home to Cliftonville).

Portadown though saw off the Ards challenge in the Bass Irish Cup quarter-final winning 2-1 at Ards and the Coca-Cola Cup semi-final defeat, 3-1 to Cliftonville at the Oval, was a big disappointment.

It was a very 'nervy' end to a poorish season and obvious to all that something had to be done. Thankfully Roy Coyle was signed up for a new contract which keeps him at Castlereagh Park for three more seasons so that reason alone must raise Ards' hopes again for the 96/97 season.

PLAYER PROFILE – PAUL CULLEN

Ards top scorer for the 95/96 season was Dubliner Paul Cullen with 15 goals which included a four goal blast against 'B' Division side Cookstown United in the Bass Irish Cup in January. That maybe gives some indication of Ards' lack of scoring form during a season in which they had lost top marksman Darren Erskine to Linfield. Erskine and Cullen had in fact been joint scorers for Ards the previous season - both notching 19 apiece. Paul is now 27 years of age, he hails from Dublins' seaside resort Bray and it was with hometown 'Bray Wanderers' that he began his career as a teenager before going on to University. That was University College Dublin and as 'U.C.D.' played in the Senior League so did Paul who also turned out for the Irish Universities and in the World Student games. His career mirrored that of Ards teammate Gary O'Sullivan as both moved onto Shamrock Rovers and after three seasons both came to Ards 'on-loan'. Cullen was first to sign permanently for Roy Coyle and that was hardly surprising as he and Erskine had struck up a very profitable partnership up front.

Unfortunately when that was broken with Erskines transfer, so Cullen's form began to fade as no regular front man stayed long enough to assist the Southerner whose best position is supporting a bigger man up front rather than being an 'out and out striker himself.

During the summer Ards re-signed Harry McCourt from Derry City and hopefully Cullen will be able to strike up a similar rapport with McCourt like he had with Erskine.

Interestingly Ards had three Southern travellers last season in Cullen, O'Sullivan and Dwaine Shanley and a more high-powered 'Mastermind' trio you couldn't imagine! Cullen is an Accountant, O'Sullivan a Consulting Engineer and Shanley a Lecturer!

Jim Palmer.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Ballyclare Comrades began the season with yet another new manager, their fifth in as many seasons. And it did not take Alan Campbell, the former Glenavon and Ballymena United boss, long to realise the task facing him.

The perennial close season exodus from Dixon Park saw the previous seasons top two goalscorers at the club, Peter Moran and Patrick O'Connell, depart along with Michael Kelly, Philip Lecky and David Armstrong. Their replacements were made up of players who came from 'B' Division or Amateur League clubs, so it was no surprise that they made a disastrous start. A defeat against Banbridge Town in the opening round of the League Cup was followed by three Ulster Cup maulings by Distillery, Glenavon and Cliftonville, in which the Comrades conceded a staggering 19 goals!

The new boss patched the defence up in time for the Gold Cup campaign against Portadown, Ards and Omagh Town but a lack of punch up front meant that Comrades were still pointless after seven games.

Ballyclare eventually got off the mark with a draw in their opening League match at home to Newry Town and their first victory a fortnight later over eventual runaway Champions Coleraine, led to a pitchside protest by the Bannsidiers' fans demanding Kenny Shiels' resignation, but a barren spell then followed before a few good results either side of Christmas lifted them off the bottom of the table.

Despite another slump in their fortunes during February, a second win against Coleraine and a 1-0 victory over Distillery on the last day meant that Ballyclare finished the season in fifth place, ahead of East Antrim rivals Carrick Rangers and Larne.

In the Bass Irish Cup, Comrades survived a fifth round scare before eventually squeezing past Tobermore United on a 3-2 scoreline but not unexpectedly went out at the next hurdle to reigning League Champions Crusaders. As with most First Division clubs money at Dixon Park is very tight, so while the likes of Trevor Anderson and Ronnie McFall contemplate their next 'big signing' Alan Campbell will once again have to be content with scouring the the Junior Leagues for the types of players who he hopes will turn Ballyclare into a promotion winning side in 1996/97.

PLAYER PROFILE - PATRICK O'CONNOR

Patrick O'Connor was one of only two professional players at Dixon Park last season (the other was Damien McCusker). But the big midfielder is adamant the Comrades is no amateur set-up.

"Far from it," he says. "There isn't a lot of cash about, but Alan Campbell is a fantastic manager. Too good for this level of football."

Campbell's been around a few corners on the soccer scene, and he's used his experience to put together a Ballyclare side for virtually nothing.

O'Connor is one of the men he plucked from the obscurity of Junior soccer with U.U.J. and although the Comrades may not be the most fashionable of clubs, Pat's happy to be there.

"When I left Larne I thought I'd blown my chance of senior soccer so it's nice to be given a second chance at 26," he says.

In only his first season back in the Irish League, O'Connor, a P.E. Teacher at Hazelwood Integrated College in Belfast, learned quickly to adapt to the higher level. He was one of the stars as Ballyclare Comrades ruffled more than a few feathers in a see-saw campaign.

Don't forget, they were the only team to beat runaway champions Coleraine twice and they also scored their customary success against Premier League top dogs Portadown. Second at one stage in the First Division, they eventually had to settle for fifth.

O'Connor reflects, "That wasn't bad under the circumstances. With our limited resources, we were pleased to finish ahead of our local rivals Carrick Rangers and Larne."

Pat is picked to play in midfield, but says he feels equally at home in defence. He's a bit of a sporting all-rounder really. The Anderstown man is a former Irish table tennis International and he also had four years playing County football for Antrim.

Peter Taggart.

Summary of the Season 1995/96

It's far from a 'funny old game'. United fans assured themselves that promotion in two years would be acceptable. But when it didn't come in the first season of the League's new two-tier system, you could hear Sky Blue groans stampeding their way along Warden Street.

It seems so ironic now. How we guffawed way back in May 1995 when Paul Muir's right boot cleared United's goaline to condemn Coleraine to First Division football. How deeply depressing then that the Ballycastle Road men should twist the bayonet by turning last season's title into a one-horse race. But there the pessimism ends for another 12 months....

Showgrounds boss, Alan Fraser, is safe in the United hot-seat, an indication of the high esteem in which he is increasingly held in Ballymena. His much-publicised big-money buys at the start of last season have turned United into a hard team to beat. More Arsenal than Ajax, granted, but it's working.

Robbie Beck, Jason Allen (everyone's player-of-the-season), club captain John McConnell, Stephen Stewart and Nigel Boyd have added a steely backbone to United in the past number of months. Ally Mauchlen and Mark McWalter (top goalscorer with 13 goals), who were set for pastures new during the summer, missed most of the campaign through injury, while highly-rated striker Tom McCourt lost his starting place for reasons best known to himself.

The statistics speak for themselves. Ballymena conceded a mere 25 League goals thanks largely to messrs. Beck, Allen and McConnell. It was the best defensive record in the two divisions. But you only have to look at the other end of the scale (38 goals scored in 28 League games) to recognise the team's frailties.

How many times did Alan Fraser complain about his side's impotence in front of goal last season? Quite a few, I'd wager.

This year United will hope to wrestle Bangor, Distillery and possibly Omagh out of the way to secure Premier League football in the 1997/98 campaign. But boss Fraser is confident this year's Sky Blues will be a "threat and a force to be reckoned with". Speaking at the end of last season the former Glenavon supremo said "I am pleased with the players. Throughout the season they gave me 100 per cent and I couldn't fault them in any way."

On the plus side, the Showgrounds outfit can only improve on last year's failings and the club's Steel & Sons Cup win by the Reserves squad also augurs well for the season ahead.

Now we can merely hope and pray that the sound of a rippling net returns to Warden Street. It would make Mr. Alan Fraser (and countless others) very happy indeed.....

Darren Fullerton.

PLAYER PROFILE - JASON ALLEN

It's a wonder Trevor Anderson hasn't received thank you notes by the bundle at Windsor Park. Visit Jason Allen and his wife Julie at their Dundonald home and you'll be surrounded by silverware. Compliments of grateful Ballymena United supporters.

Jason (25) has worked his way into the hearts of those hardy souls who watched United's promotion campaign falter in the Braid breeze last season. But despite the disappointment of Ballymena failing to gain Premier League football, the former Northern Ireland schoolboy and Oldham Athletic reserve player couldn't be happier with his new club.

"The Ballymena fans have been fantastic," he said, "It is a great honour to pick up all last season's Player of the Year awards from the supporters' clubs and hopefully I will be able to continue in the same vein next year."

Jason, who decided to turn his back on Linfield following a much-publicised Irish Cup Final dispute in 1995, admits he once considered throwing away his boots for good. But, thankfully, things are a lot different now.

"There were some summers when I wasn't looking forward to the season ahead, but this year I can't wait," he said, "I'm really bubbling and hopefully this year will go well for the club. The fans deserve success."

Jason believes manager Alan Fraser has assembled a squad capable of winning this season's First Division title.

"I expect the club to gain promotion this year." He said, "The boss has a settled team playing decent football at the moment so I think we're more than capable of going up. Bangor will prove our toughest opposition but I am feeling very positive about this year's campaign. Last year we did very well against Premier teams like Glentoran and Crusaders so I don't think we're too far away from a team that can challenge for major honours," he added. Reflecting on last season, Jason admits that a lack of firepower and misfortune played a role in United's disjointed year.

"We were a bit unlucky at times and the goals didn't seem to go in at the right time," he said, "Before I came to Ballymena I'm not even sure if I'd played in a 0-0 game before!"

Jason who scored two goals last season (against Ballyclare Comrades and Coleraine), places a lot of credit on the shoulders of fellow central-defender John McConnell.

"You would definitely want John in the trenches with you," he laughed, "I know I gained a lot of recognition from the supporters, but John's style of play helps me immensely."

To Sky Blue fans, Jason Allen and John McConnell have performed wonders for a United team that has started to believe in itself again.

And to think they're both former Linfield men. Get me that address for Windsor Park.....

Darren Fullerton.

Summary of 1995/96 Season.

Despite the fact that Bangor ended the season with a trophy victory - the Mid-Ulster Cup, there can be no doubt that this was a disastrous year for the 'Seasiders' which saw the club relegated from the Premier League into the First Division. The main objective when the season started had been to secure the place fortuitously won in the Premier League, but everyone realised that the odds were against survival. The loss of players such as Tim Dalton, Ricky McEvoy, Marc Kenny and Mark Glendinning under controversial circumstances meant that new manager Paul Malone had to be something of a miracle worker to rebuild a team in a few short weeks.

New players were brought to the club at the start of the season, striker P.J. O'Connell from Ballyclare Comrades, midfielder Michael Cash from Larne and Michael McKeown from Glenavon and others in the course of the first weeks of the season, however it was soon evident that the team did not possess the quality required.

The season opened with a League Cup victory over Dungannon Swifts, but the writing was already on the wall when Cliftonville hammered Bangor 6-1 in the second round. Bangor did succeed in reaching the quarter-final stage of the Gold Cup, but the misfortune which dogged the club last term was evident when the quarter-final tie against Crusaders at Seaview had to be abandoned due to torrential rain with Bangor leading 2-1 after 55 minutes on October 24. When the game was replayed a month later, Bangor lost 2-1.

Just three days before that, however, manager Paul Malone had resigned following a 6-1 League defeat at home to Glentoran. At that stage Bangor were bottom of the table with only four points from their first nine League games. Team affairs were handed to the Reserve management team of Andy Dougan and George Dunlop. It was felt that the 'drop' might possibly be avoided by bringing over full-time players from England on short-term contracts.

Although this proved an expensive venture Bangor used nine such players during the course of the season, such as Martin Williams and Derek Simpson from Reading, Mike Davis from Bristol Rovers, Matt Green and Will Davies from Derby County and Darren Holmes from Sheffield Wednesday. Certainly performances improved, but the team never managed to get off the foot of the table and in the end Bangor finished in bottom position in the Premier League with 14 points. One indication of Bangor's plights was that 51 players were used during the season.

The only ray of sunshine was the Mid-Ulster Cup success at the end of the season. Following home wins over Coagh United, by 3-0 and Newry Town 2-1 Bangor won the trophy, which they had entered for the first time, when they defeated Dungannon Swifts 3-1 at Shamrock Park.

Curiously Bangor had begun and ended the season with victories over Dungannon, but there had been precious little else to cheer and now the management team must aim to achieve a quick return to the Premier League.

PLAYER PROFILE - RAYMOND HILL

Raymond Hill has been a 'permanent fixture' at Clondeboye Park for the past eight seasons, indeed Raymond's quiet and unassuming manner conceals a skilful and determined player who has played his full part in the successes won by Bangor in recent seasons. He began his career as a full-back, but is now employed in either a defensive role or in midfield.

Born on December 5, 1961, Raymond began his career with Armagh Boys Club and then joined Portadown, where he played for the third team at 14 years of age. Indeed he made his debut for the first team at the tender age of 15 against Ballymena United. Raymond also won many schoolboy international caps. Indeed he was named as Portadown's '13th man' for the Irish Cup Final against Cliftonville in 1979.

The following season Raymond was a member of the Portadown Irish Youth Cup winning team and he also played in all the games for the N.Ireland Youth team which qualified for the Final tournament in East Germany.

Raymond stayed with Portadown until the summer of 1984 when he joined Ards. By coincidence his first game for Ards was a 4-1 Gold Cup victory against Bangor. The goalscorer for the Seasiders was Raymond with an own goal!

Raymond played 185 senior games and scored 11 goals for Ards until Bangor manager John Flanagan signed him in September 1988. Since then he has played under Nigel Best, Roddy Collins, Paul Malone and Andy Dougan. He says: "I suppose the highlights were the Irish Cup Finals against Ards when we eventually won at the third attempt, and then my first European matches against the gifted players of Czech side Sigma Olomouc." Incidentally he is one of only two players to play in all Bangor's European matches. The other was central defender Stephen Brown. Outside of football Raymond is a teacher at Dromore High School he is married to Deborah and they have two daughters, Ruth (10) and Lindsey (8). In his spare time he enjoys playing cricket and golf though hopes to continue playing football for as long as possible!

Bangor's recent Mid-Ulster win signified yet another personal milestone for Raymond. It provided the midfielder with a winner's medal of course but it also marked his 750th senior appearance in Irish League football.

Raymond has now played 206 League matches for Bangor, just two short of Stephen Brown's record. With no sign of Raymond or Bangor wishing to end their association it looks as if Hill will shortly be able to claim that record too.

Summary of 1995/96 Season:

Carrick Rangers completed the season battling to avoid the humiliation of being the first team to finish bottom of the heap in the newly created First Division. A bizarre encounter in which opponents Newry Town were reduced to ten men after one of the players left the field following a dispute with the manager ended in Carrick's favour. The game was then caught up in allegations over a betting coup. Such a finale complemented the club's controversial build up to the 1995/96 campaign.

Top striker Sammy Shiels, still under contract to Taylor's Avenue, was spotted turning out in a pre-season game for Coleraine, which led to a £2,000 fine for the latter. Talented goalkeeper Paul Miskelly was also on his way from Carrick. On the field, things began promisingly with consecutive victories in August over junior opponents Cookstown United and Banbridge Town in the League Cup. There then followed an eight goal Ulster Cup thriller against Omagh with the honours shared.

Alas, the first meeting with a Premier side, the then champions Crusaders, led to a four-goal thrashing and an exit from the tournament. Things went from bad to worse with a 6-2 defeat by Omagh Town in the League Cup.

Another four goal thumping, this time by Cliftonville marked the beginning and the end of interest in the Gold Cup, but a win over Larne and a courageous draw with Glentoran should have provided a boost before things got underway in earnest.

Rangers made a disastrous debut in the First Division losing 3-1 at Ballymena and there were two more defeats before they picked up their points against neighbours Ballyclare in the second of nine East Antrim derbies for Colin Crawford's team!

The writing was on the wall when Coleraine visited Taylor's Avenue in November and triumphed 3-0, leaving little doubt as to where the one promotion place was going.

By now Crawford had recruited the services of former favourite Winston Armstrong, one of few additions to the squad as the harsh reality of life in the cash strapped lower division dawned.

A distraction from the weekly grind of the League was a County Antrim Shield clash with Cliftonville and the home side were not among those complaining about the fairness of a penalty kick shoot out as they triumphed. The joy was short-lived as Portadown put Carrick out in the next round.

Mid-Ulster provided little encouragement in the Coca-Cola Cup either, the big freeze over Christmas meant the home tie with Glenavon was the only one to go ahead on schedule but the visitors' 3-0 success rendered the second leg academic.

The new year saw Carrick put together a run which took them to second place with giant stopper Tom McLeister and flying winger Philip Macauley providing the main inspiration. The month of January did have its hiccup in the form of a tricky Irish Cup match away to the R.U.C., with the visitors having to come from behind to win 3-2. Armstrong scored the winner in the next round against Newry to set up thoughts of a repeat of the previous season's run all the way to the final. Then came the draw and back to reality, a quarter final trip to Glenavon ended in defeat.

By now Carrick had plummeted back to the lower end of the table and it was a case of commencing a rebuilding programme. It was farewell to veteran forward Geoff Ferris and hello to youngsters such as David Lowry and Stephen Smyth, during the close season experienced defender John Muldoon stepped up as assistant to Crawford and they have indicated they will be putting their trust in youth in what could be a make or break year for the club.

PLAYERS PROFILE - JOHN MULDOON

John Muldoon has no difficulty in explaining why he is full of enthusiasm for his 18th season in the Irish League. He simply "loves playing football". Further incentives are the chance to pass 500 outings in senior soccer and the need to lead by example as the new assistant manager of Carrick Rangers.

His decision to accept greater responsibility may seem strange given his unhappy experience at Ballyclare Comrades where he shared the manager's role with Colin Crawford, the current number one at Carrick. The pair broke with the Dixon Park club in less than harmonious circumstances in 1994.

"The events at Ballyclare, where I was joint manager, soured me and I nearly paced the game up. I knew I was not going to a big club but several had asked me to go into the 'B' Division and do some coaching."

"Then Kenny Shiels, who was manager of Carrick at the time, asked me to come along to Taylor's Avenue, and I have been there since. It is a friendly club and they are a nice bunch of lads."

However, early on he found himself caught up in further turmoil. Shiels left to become manager at Coleraine, followed by several key players, which led to uncertainty. Crawford, who had also made the short move from Comrades, moved into the hot seat, but the team's league form nose dived during the transitional period.

"When Kenny and a number of important players left the club it was a bit of a shock. there was a bit of turmoil but we managed to keep our best performances for the Irish Cup and made it all the way to the Final. That was a great bonus."

Although on the losing side that day to Linfield, Muldoon has tasted success in his long career including Northern Ireland under-18 and Irish League representative honours.

He was also part of an Irish Cup winning squad at Bangor and remembers successful campaigns in the League cup and Ulster Cup too. His senior debut was for Cliftonville back in 1979 and during 12 years service with the Belfast outfit he served with distinction at left-back and enjoyed a County Antrim Shield triumph.

The affable taxi driver was hampered last season due to injury, forcing him to take the radical step of playing no football during the break. "I had a back injury and it was hurting a hamstring. This summer I took a complete rest and it seems alright."

Fitness will feature high on the agenda as Carrick, like many provincial clubs battling in the harsh financial climate created by the controversial two-tier system, make an even more determined push to gain access to the Premier elite. "Colin and I have the same ideas on how we play football and how we go about training. He is the boss and I can be the link between the players. we will be concentrating on fitness and getting a squad of young players balanced with experienced heads."

Terence Ferry.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Cliftonville's objective for last season was primarily that of maintaining the club's Premier League status in the new two tier set-up. Beforehand the Reds were considered to be a possibility for the drop to the First Division. as it turned out the side spent much of the season vying with Ards to stay clear of Bangor who eventually became the first Irish League club to suffer relegation. Overall the League performances were disappointing, but Portadown apart, the Reds looked quite capable of holding their own against the fancied outfits. The inability to put together a string of consistently good results, and more so a first team squad of sufficient depth and quality consigned Cliftonville to the lower half of the table throughout the League campaign.

The bonus for the Reds came in the shape of qualification for the Inter-Toto cup, courtesy of their sixth place finish in the League, and of course no Reds fan could possibly forget the long awaited trophy success, as the side swept aside Glentoran's challenge in the Coca-Cola Cup Final. Great joy and delight all round followed the 3-1 victory at Windsor Park over the East Belfast club.

Like the local saying about bus services, 'For a long time there are none, and then two or three appear in quick succession' Reds fans very much hope the same now applies in the quest for silverware.

The 1996/97 season may not prove to be as worrisome for struggling Premier League sides given that further changes in the set-up, namely an increase to ten clubs, looks to be on the cards next season. Nevertheless Reds manager Marty Quinn will obviously be hoping to improve on the side's showing in the inaugural Premier league season. Several promising young players have come through the ranks to boost the strength of the first team squad. The addition last season of Dubliner Paul Stokes at long last saw the arrival of a much sought after consistent striker.

As usual optimism abounds at Solitude for the new season. The Coca-Cola Cup success hopefully will prove to be the breakthrough the Reds have long been seeking.

Michael Gallagher.

PLAYER PROFILE - TIM MCCANN

Tim McCann has firmly established himself as one of the best right sided attacking players in Irish League football.

His ability to get down the right flank at considerable pace has led to many Cliftonville goals. His reputation was enhanced by his fine performance in last season's Coca-Cola Floodlit Cup Final when his opportunism saw him grab the Reds equaliser against Glentoran. Typical McCann wing play then saw him combine well with Paul Stokes for the latter to spectacularly score the third and decisive goal in the 3-1 victory. A television audience was able to witness a typical piece of McCann magic, something which Reds fans had become used to since his debut in 1990.

Tim's fine display in the Cliftonville jersey have naturally attracted the attention of the cross channel clubs. Last season Blackpool had him over on a trial period, and although no transfer has yet materialised, the Bloomfield club are keeping tabs on him.

Sheffield United are another club to have shown interest in the speedy winger. Despite pushing 25, local lad Tim has not given up hopes of breaking into the full-time professional ranks on the other side of the Irish Sea.

Last season Tim underlined his commitment to the Reds by renewing his contract at a time when it was feared by the fans that attractive offers from other local clubs could lure him away from Solitude. A product of the local Newington Youth Club and Cliftonville's own youth and reserve sides, Tim is now very much a key performer in Reds line-ups. Somehow or other the Reds attacking flair is lacking whenever he is absent. Just how long Cliftonville can continue to hold on to him remains to be seen. Despite his own ambitions in the game Cliftonville fans will be quite happy for him to keep adding to his 200 plus appearances for the club.

Michael Gallagher.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Who could have dreamed up the script for Coleraine's season? There was still hurt and dejection over relegation to the First Division. The bad feeling lingered on into the new season so much so that - ominously - after only 13 games, manager Kenny Shiels was dramatically sacked by some Directors three matches into the First Division Championship. Within 48 hours Shiels was reinstated for one game and then given the backing of the full board.

The side never looked back after that major hiccup. They ran away with the First Division title, so far in front in the new year that it was obvious nobody could catch them. In the end the Bannsideers won the crown with a massive 18 points, losing only three times in 28 games.

Early season form had been good too with the side reaching the quarter-finals of the Wilkinson Sword Irish League Cup, topping Section B of the Ulster Cup a head of Premiership sides Portadown and Bangor, but losing to Linfield in the last eight.

The Bass Irish Cup saw a dismal exit in the fifth round at Newry Town, but the whole future of senior soccer in the North West was rekindled dramatically by the inaugural Irish News Cup which paired Coleraine and Derry City for the first time in more than a decade. Coleraine defeated City over two legs and Omagh Town in the Final. The competition may be expanded from four teams in years to come.

Other plus points were the addition of a new covered enclosure at the Sperrin End of the Showgrounds, the appointment of a female marketing consultant, Ballycastle woman Deidre McNeill, a Promotions Manager, and a fundraising committee as the club prepares to meet the challenge of a new era.

Anthony Gorman's transfer to Windsor Park was a big blow to Coleraine during the close season, however the 'Bosman ruling' allowed Coleraine to take advantage of out of contact trio Brendan Aspinall, Andy Ramage and Robbie Brunton who all joined the Showgrounds outfit from Sligo Rovers. It is very unlikely the coming season will be as profitable as the previous one, with Kenny Shiels main priority to consolidate Coleraine's position within the Premier League.

PLAYER PROFILE - SAMMY SHIELDS

Sammy Shields arrived at Coleraine in a blaze of publicity but for all the wrong reasons!

The striker, who had been with his brother Kenny at Carrick Rangers, left Taylor's Avenue following an horrific time when he was close to death after a collision with Newry Town keeper Brendan Keeley.

But an appearance for Kenny's Coleraine in a pre-season friendly at Tobermore United caused Carrick to protest at their player turning out without permission and Coleraine were fined £2,000. However, after signing briefly for Tobermore, his former club, Sammy teamed up with big brother Kenny again at The Showgrounds and his comeback story began to read like something out of a 'Roy of the Rovers' episode.

The 29 year old, who has always scored goals, quickly began to settle into the groove and the goals were not long in coming. He hit 28 goals in 36 appearances to clinch the club's top goalscorer award from Tony Gorman who netted 25.

It was just reward for a player who demonstrated a courage which few will ever comprehend. "He came through the most difficult time. We thought the worst at one time but he was a fighter and pulled through," says Kenny. "Although he scored goals it took him a few weeks to settle down at Coleraine. He just kept getting better and better."

His team-mates will tell you that while his goalscoring is a feature, it is his unselfish style which they most appreciate. Shields possesses tremendous vision and can see and seize opportunities to create openings.

Sammy, a quiet man, lives in Maghera. He started his senior career at Ballymena United and went on to Tobermore. He then signed for Ards in August 1990 and he was among the goals at Castlereagh Park until being transferred to Dungannon Swifts. Next stop was at Carrick Rangers where he won a Co.Antrim Shield medal.

Coleraine looks like being his final senior port of call. Sammy has become a popular player with the fans who see him as the first comparable replacement to legendary goalscorer

Dessie Dickson.

Summary of the Season 1995/96

Successive defeats in competitive games No.57 and No.58 ultimately meant that Crusaders were unable to claim either of the big two prizes on offer last season and Seaview was consumed by gloom for a few days as a consequence.

It would be wrong though to let that last couple of weeks take away from what was another tremendous season for the boys in red-and-black.

Roy Walker's side won the Gold Cup for only the second time in their history, were losing finalists in the League Cup and County Antrim Shield and also reached the semi-final stages of the Ulster Cup and the Irish Cup.

Arguably though, Walker's greatest achievement of the nine months was once more keeping the Crus in the race for the Championship until the penultimate Saturday of the League programme. Runners-up spot may have been poor consolation at the time but it earned entry into European competition for the third time in four seasons and sustained a record of consistency unknown at Seaview for 25 years.

The Crusaders manager also bought wisely once again. Quality rather than quantity was again the name of the Walker game. The two new arrivals were sturdy defender Trevor McMullan (29) and midfielder Donal O'Brien (27). Both very experienced players.

McMullan arrived after a second spell with Ballymena United but is best remembered as a long-serving Larne defender with a number of Inter-League appearances behind him. O'Brien, whose career seemed to be a mix of spells in Australia interspersed with those at Derry City, came to Seaview after a season with Glentoran where he had become something of a cult figure until the emergence of Glen Little squeezed him out. Both gave sterling service in their first season at Seaview and their ability to play in a variety of different roles proved invaluable. There were 48 goals from the front pair of Stephen Baxter and Glenn Hunter. Baxter, with 30 goals, struck a rich vein of form, actually scoring five times in an early Gold Cup meeting against his previous club Distillery. Hunter's strike against Silkeborg in the UEFA Cup was the first goal scored by Crusaders in European competition for 27 years!

The Crues remain as mean as ever at the back. Goalkeeper Kevin McKeown kept 22 clean sheets in 58 appearances and continued to pull off the type of save that can make the difference between winning and losing and the Scot was called up to the 'B' International squad by Craig Brown in October.

There were some formidable defenders in front of McKeown. Glenn Dunlop (himself a N Ireland 'B' International) and Aaron Callaghan, backed up by Derek Carroll and Robert Lawlor all made life difficult for opposing attacks. The Reserve team also had an encouraging season, finishing third in the 'B' Division with only three defeats in their 28 games with a much younger side than often in the past.

In another, and not well publicised innovation, the club formed it's own Under-18 and Under-16 sides to perform competitively throughout the season. One only has to look at the success of club captain Sid Burrows, a product of former nursery club Carnmoney Colts, to see what benefits can ensue from nurturing local youngsters.

The very best news for Crues fans came in the summer when Roy Walker confirmed that he would continue at the helm in 1996/97. The young Crues boss had been inconsolable at the season's end. His disappointment was understandable but there is still an awful lot that he and his happy Seaview band can achieve. His decision to remain was the right one.

John Smedley.

PLAYER PROFILE - STEPHEN BAXTER

When Stephen Baxter joined the Crus after an average type of season with Distillery, there were some eyebrows raised among the Shore Road club's supporters. That was less than two years ago but here we are, just two seasons on, and those same fans would find it hard to believe if the name Baxter was missing from the starting line up.

The tall, long-legged striker has been playing Irish League football for ten years. The bulk of that time was spent with Linfield but, like some of his new Seaview colleagues, Baxter has gone on to prove that life after Windsor Park can be much more fun.

His first season with Crusaders was a good one but the second, last season, was even better for 'Stanley' (his dressing room nickname). Big Baxter swiftly proved that he was no one-season wonder, improving on his 22-goal tally of 1994/95 with 30 goals in 1995/96.

The 30 year old is not just a goalscorer. He makes a fine target man, leads the line well and his very presence can cause panic in the opposing defence. There is no doubt that Stephen is a far better player now than when he was in the season before he joined Crusaders. Whether that is because he is surrounded by better players, is benefiting from increased confidence or is now putting all he has learnt before into the Crusaders cause is questionable.

"I think that the key to any success I can claim at Seaview is the fact that you are so rapidly accepted by your dressing-room colleagues here," explained Stephen. "Roy Walker is so adept at taking players like myself who have spent long spells with other clubs and then convincing us that we are still as good, if not better, than we were before."

"The other thing that is so important to strikers like myself is the confidence you gain when you are surrounded by good players. It's those same players who help to carve out chances for myself and that's something I thrive on," added Baxter.

Like several of his Seaview predecessors, part-time professional Baxter brings a full-time professional approach to the game he loves to play.

What so often surprises his opponents is the skill of 'Stanley' when the ball is on the floor. They expect him to make life difficult when the ball is in the air as he makes most of his 6' 2". Stephen doesn't disappoint them! But it's his control and shooting power that opponents sometimes underestimate, as they find to their cost!

Crusaders fans will not be making the same mistake. They have seen the big man bang in 52 goals in two seasons and look good for more next term. They also know that Baxter's continued presence inevitably will lead to goalscoring opportunities for others.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

For Distillery the writing was on the wall for the 1995/96 as early as the first game of the season. In that match a 1-0 home League Cup defeat at the hands of 'B' Division side Harland & Wolff Welders provided a dark backdrop to what was to be a season of great gloom for everyone at New Grosvenor. And yet it had some bright spots along the way. A semi-final place in the Ulster Cup was only denied by a penalty shoot out defeat at the hands of Crusaders, a debut final appearance in the Mid-Ulster Cup was thwarted by a crazy refereeing decision which saw fit to award Dungannon Swifts a match winning hotly disputed penalty with only one minute left to play, and a fine run of form at the start of the League campaign which sadly fizzled out into nothing. Indeed with a quarter of the League matches having been played out, the 'Whites' were four points clear at the top of the First Division and well on course for instant promotion, and then disaster struck. Three points from the next nine games left the side in mid-table and effectively killed off all Distillery hopes of a speedy return to the elite of Irish League football.

Change was needed at New Grosvenor but few believed it would take place so rapidly and dramatically as it did. On 14th February, manager Billy Hamilton, after having earlier announced his intentions to resign at the end of the season, was replaced by former Glentoran Colts supremo Paul Kirk. Kirk immediately went about the task of rebuilding the team from scratch replacing experience with youthful determination. Indeed within six months of his appointment as manager only three players who had featured as regulars under Billy Hamilton were still playing an active role at the club. Kirk has adopted the team to suit his style of play, placed the emphasis on youth, and has also done his best to cut costs, a vital exercise if the club is to survive life in the First Division. Indeed, as with the rest of the teams playing in the new First Division, survival is the order of the day with the very existence of clubs such as Distillery in the melting pot.

And so we enter a new season with the very real shadow of the executioner hanging over those clubs which fail to make it into next seasons 10 team Premier League. Failure for the 'Whites' could mean the end of the road and surely that, after all the struggles the club has endured over the last 20 years, would be the ultimate blow to the Distillery faithful. Here's hoping it's not the case.

Colin Hopkins.

PLAYER PROFILE - ALAN HALL

Since new manager Paul Kirk took over the reins in charge of Distillery in February 1996, to say some players have moved on would be a complete understatement. Indeed only three players who featured in the side before Kirk's appointment still feature in the sides present plans, one such player being Whites stalwart Alan Hall.

Alan Hall joined Distillery from Wigan Athletic as an 18 year old in December 1988 and prior to the start of this season, which incidentally is his benefit year at the club, had notched up no less than 253 appearances for the Whites. Modest as usual however Alan refuses to highlight his great loyalty to the club by declaring "When Billy Hamilton was in charge there were at least four or five players who stayed on throughout his whole time in charge and it just so happens that I'm one of them".

There have been several highlights for Alan in his Distillery career to date with one of them being rather surprisingly the 1994 Budweiser Cup Final defeat against Portadown - a match which saw Distillery lead 2-0 with only 11 minutes remaining before eventually losing 4-2. "That was my only cup final appearance to date" says Alan "and that, plus our great run in the 1992 League season are by far my best memories at Distillery." Asked about his thoughts on the new manager, Alan came across very enthusiastic; "Paul (Kirk) has come in with a lot of new ideas and a lot of new faces and there certainly seems to be a new wave of energy and desire at the club and he seems really determined to make sure that things get off the ground at Distillery." Alan did however voice his concern at the two tier system now in operation in Northern Irish football commenting that "My fear is that every season the gap between Premier and First Divisions will simply get larger and larger and that it will become much harder for the smaller sides to compete. The gap in resources, skills and so forth is certainly becoming more and more obvious as time marches on. That said hopefully we can make promotion this time around although being realistic, we're still a very young side and it really is a case of whether or not we can gel quickly enough to succeed this time around. There's no doubt we now we have a lot of skilful players at Distillery so we can just hope we can all work well as a team as this is the only way to succeed. Of the other teams in the League I would think Bangor would be the team to beat in that they have had a season in the Premier and should be more experienced than most of the First Division sides. Omagh Town as well could be a surprise packet in the title chase."

Alan knows the season ahead will be a difficult one but it is one which he intends to commit his usual 110% to ensure the success of Distillery Football Club.

Colin Hopkins.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Glenavon marked the commencement of the 1995/96 season by qualifying through a round in Europe for the first time in the club's history. The Lurgan Blues scored a brilliant 1-0 away UEFA Cup preliminary round victory over Icelandic side FC Hafnarfjörður to set up a glamour First Round tie with Werder Bremen. Although beaten 0-7 on aggregate by the Bundesliga giants, the Mourneview club had the considerable consolation of substantial revenues from the marketing of the television rights to the First Leg tie at Mourneview Park.

Domestically the Lurgan club made a typically assured start to the season. Six straight wins without a goal conceded took Nigel Best's men through to the semi-final stage of the Wilkinson Sword League Cup and quarter-finals of the Ulster Cup. Glenavon also reached the last eight of the Gold Cup. However, the Lurgan Blues were destined not to contest the final of any of the three competitions. In both the League Cup and Ulster Cup semi-finals the Mourneview side were beaten by neighbours Portadown whilst a long-running dispute with the IFA regarding the eligibility of midfielder Marc Kenny led to the club's eventual withdrawal from the Gold Cup.

Glenavon's European success and encouraging early season form in domestic competition had much to do with the signings made during the summer by manager Best. Experienced goalkeeper Dermot O'Neill arrived from Derry City, N.Ireland 'B' International full back Mark Glendinning came from Bangor and defender Gary Smyth was signed from Glentoran. In addition the Lurgan club bought Dublin-based midfielder Marc Kenny from Coleraine. Later in the season Glenavon added Derry City's Edinburgh-born defender Stuart Gauld and former Celtic and Portadown midfielder Tony Shepherd to the first team squad. The Co.Antrim Shield has always been a competition in which Glenavon have prospered and that record of success continued in 1995/96. Darren Freeman, a loan signing from Gillingham, marked his debut for the North Armagh club with two goals in a 4-1 victory over Portadown in the semi-finals and Stephen McBride scored twice in a comprehensive 3-0 final win over Crusaders at the end of January. It was Glenavon's first trophy success since winning the Irish Cup in 1992.

January and February saw Glenavon achieve two of its biggest home wins in post-war football, 1st Liverpool R.R. were beaten 12-0 in the fifth round of the Irish Cup and Portadown were crushed 7-0 in a Premier League fixture. In addition long-serving defender Paul Byrne overtook Wilbur Cush's post war record of 562 club appearances.

An impressive sequence of away victories had lifted Glenavon into a comfortable second place in the Premier League table by mid-December. However, successive home defeats by Cliftonville, Glentoran and Bangor followed by draws against Crusaders and Cliftonville ended the Lurgan club's title charge by mid-April.

Glenavon qualified for the last four of the Bass Irish Cup following comprehensive wins over Cliftonville and Carrick Rangers. A brilliant second-half equaliser from Stevie McBride proved the highlight of a drawn semi-final tie with Portadown at the Oval; four days later the Lurgan Blues, aided by a double strike from on-loan West Ham striker Danny Shipp, crushed their Mid-Ulster rivals 4-1 to set up a final meeting with Glentoran. Without goalkeeper Dermot O'Neill and midfielder Lee Doherty, both suspended, Glenavon lost 0-1 to the East Belfast men in a disappointing final at Windsor Park.

PLAYER PROFILE - LEE DOHERTY

At Mourneview Park Lee Doherty swept all before him last term. The 33 year old midfielder was voted 'Player of the Season' by Glenavon supporters and supporters' clubs alike. It all added up to a thunderous affirmation of the renaissance in his playing career over the past 12 months. "Yes, I was obviously delighted to be chosen for so many awards," he says. "It wasn't something which I had expected - although I felt personally that things had gone well for me - but it was a terrific boost nonetheless."

Collecting personal honours was a fairly common experience for Lee during 14 success-filled seasons at Windsor Park. News of Lee's intention to leave Linfield had broken in May 1994 shortly after the Blues had clinched their 42nd Championship title and 34th Irish Cup win, pipping Glenavon and Portadown for the League and beating Bangor in the Cup Final. "During my final season I was in and out of the side," he recalls. "When I got a chance in the team I thought that I did quite well, but as time went on those opportunities became fewer and fewer in number." But there was more to the parting of the ways between Linfield and Lee Doherty than Trevor Anderson's selection policy. "To be honest my dispute with the club was over the length of contract which I was offered at the end of the 1993-94 season. They wanted me to sign a one-year deal and I was adamant that I wanted at least two years." Glenavon, of course, were prepared to satisfy Lee's contractual requirements during the summer of 1994. However, two years later, there was to be no immediate meeting of minds between Lee and the club. "Back in May, when the chairman and I talked about a new deal, I asked for a contract which would have taken me through until the end of the 1997-98 season. Having performed so well during the previous 10 months and feeling as fit as I did I felt confident that I could play for at least two more years at the top level and that's still my view now, but the board of directors were only prepared to talk to me in terms of a 12 month deal. There's no hiding the fact that I was disappointed by the club's approach, but I agreed to put pen to paper nonetheless. I have enjoyed myself so much here that I felt I owed something to the club and the supporters."

Lee, who missed both Glenavon's Co. Antrim Shield win in January and Irish Cup final appearance in May, is optimistic about the Lurgan club's prospects for the 1996/97 campaign. "I feel very excited about our chances of landing silverware this season," he enthuses. "Since Nigel Best came to the club he has been steadily building up a squad. Twelve months ago we brought in the likes of Gary Smyth, Mark Glendinning and Dermot O'Neill, then during the season just past we signed Stuart Gauld and Tony Shepherd. These are all quality players who have been successful at other clubs and know what it takes to win major trophies. Like every other team in the League I still feel we can strengthen further, but if we can avoid injuries and suspensions I would be very hopeful that we'll be in there battling for the major honours again this season."

Summary of 1995/96 Season

In the year when 'Football Came Home' the Bass Irish Cup came home to East Belfast after a absence of six years. On a sunny May afternoon Londoner Glen Little was Glentoran's hero with a super strike from 20 yards for the only goal of the game against Glenavon.

It had been a strange season for manager Tommy Cassidy and the team. Despite the signings of Darren Finlay, Pete Batey, Dugald McCarrison (loan), John Kennedy and a short-lived "now you see him, now you don't" from Liam Coyle, Cassidy constantly insisted that we were always a couple of players short of the finished article. The Glens were good enough to finish third in the inaugural Premier League without ever really threatening to reach the top.

In the secondary knock-out competitions the best performance was in reaching the Coca-Cola Cup Final only to lose 1-3 to Cliftonville.

One hoodoo was laid to rest in early November when Linfield were hammered 4-0 in the League at Windsor Park to end a run of 12 games without a win against them. The Blues took some revenge during a farcical Boxing Day encounter played on a snow covered pitch for the most part with a white ball! This event even warranted a guest appearance clip on BBC2's Fantasy Football League.

One pleasing note was the emergence of two stars of the future. At right back Colin Nixon replaced the stalwart George Neill while towards the end of the season forward Andy Kirk had a run in the first team.

Off the field the club programme, The Gazette, scooped all the awards and the new home and away shirts have been manufactured by Le Coq Sportif. Also an Internet site has been launched on the World Wide Web. So at the start of 1996/97 the Glens stand at the cross-roads. The potential is there to build on the Irish Cup success and an attractive trip to Prague, but pre-season results suggested that Cassidy is still a way short of his ultimate goal. Only time will tell.

PLAYER PROFILE - ANDY MATHIESON

Glentoran's current beneficiary is Andy Mathieson, now into his twelfth season with the club, since signing way back as an 18 year old in November 1985. He went onto make his debut on Tuesday 6th may 1986 in a 1-1 draw with Cliftonville at The Oval and up to the start of the current season he had amassed 236 appearances (62 as substitute).

Just as important though to Andy is the 200 or so appearances made for Glentoran Seconds, including captaining them to the Steel & Sons Cup success of 1989. Andy netted in that match, a convincing 4-1 victory over East Belfast.

Down the years Andy has represented the Glens in nearly every position but, despite the Mr.Versatile tag, he has managed to score 40 goals for the first team. His most memorable strike came against Linfield at Windsor Park in a Boxing Day 1-1 draw in 1990. Andy recalls, "There were no TV cameras present but there was a hurricane blowing along with sleety rain and snow. I hit a free-kick from about 40 yards out and it went into the top corner. Did I mean it? Of course! After a few drinks it got further60 yards, 80 yards, bye-ball line!"

On a more serious note though Andy does now regret agreeing to play in so many different positions. He honestly admits, "It has affected my game. I wish I'd have stayed up front when I was scoring a few goals but at the end of the day I will try and give a 100% no matter what number I'm wearing."

Most people will know Andy had a spell at Old Trafford as a youth, rubbing shoulders with the famous before a brief sortie with Crewe Alexandra. There he played alongside another ex-Man. Utd. youth, David Platt. Andy has no regrets at all about not making it in England. "I represented my country at Under-18 level and had a great chance, but I simply was not good enough for League football. I came back home and still enjoyed myself doing something I love, playing football.

Who can argue with that? In fact during his time at the Oval the Glens have won every local trophy (18 in total) including the double in 1988. Mathieson's most prolific season was the Championship year of 1991/92 when he played in of the Glens 50 games, netting 18 times.

After the benefit season is over Andy has no definite plans for the future. He explains, "My contract is up in October 1997 so I'll see what happens then. Somehow I can't see myself playing for another club against a team I love so I'll probably retire."

If indeed that is the case then the Oval will have lost another trusty servant. All the best Andy.

Roy France.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

The failure to score goals was the real reason Larne's results failed so miserably to reflect the quality of their performances last season. However Larne manager Shay Hamill is confident his young squad will get much more reward for their endeavour in the forthcoming season.

In backing up his argument, Hamill crucially cites their matches in the new First Division against the Coleraine side that completely over-ran the opposition and had the title wrapped up months before the end of the campaign.

"Those four games are perfect for illustrating my point. We lost them all by a single goal, and we had four or five chances that went begging in every one of those games," said the Ballymena man, a St.Comgall's PE teacher in Larne.

"Indeed, their manager Kenny Shiels said we were by far the best side they played in the League."

It's a sad fact, indeed, that the Inver Park team only lost by a 1-0 scoreline on no fewer than twelve occasions and in the vast majority of those matches they were the better side and just couldn't get the ball in the net.

The main problem was that they were too dependent on Crawford McCrae to supply the finish. "He is a good player but nobody can carry the responsibility of needing to score in every game" reasoned Hamill.

"It was a good season in many ways but still goes down as an absolute disaster in terms of the record books. We didn't make any worthwhile progress in any of the cup competitions and finished second bottom of the First Division. That makes horrible reading."

"The most positive factor was the loyalty of the players. Okay, a couple, Stephen Collier and Robert Robinson, chose to follow David Jeffrey to Windsor Park during the summer. But lads like Larry McMahon, Mark Looney, Eamon McLaughlin and Dubois Elder have all pledged their wholehearted support and I believe we will make significant progress together, and success will be the due reward for their devotion to the club," he assured.

The departure of Jeffrey was singularly disappointing. He was recruited to be influential on and off the field but, after just a year, he felt he could give no more to the East Antrim club, and within weeks was snapped up by his old club Linfield.

PLAYER PROFILE – CRAWFORD MCCRAE

Crawford McCrae has a unique distinction in local football, he has scored nine goals in a single match!

That was four years ago when he was playing for Crusaders Reserves who were 10-1 winners that day in a 'B' Division match against Carrick Rangers at Taylor's Avenue, his hometown team.

During his time at Seaview Crawford went on to win a Gold Cup and Ulster Cup winners medal with Crusaders but an enforced absence through injury was his downfall and he couldn't command a regular first team place when he returned.

That was something he didn't want. He had suffered more than enough of the hard life with his previous club, Linfield, and he was itching for first team football on a weekly basis. The lad had given his heart and soul for the blue jersey of Linfield, spending five years at Windsor Park and, when he had his apprenticeship served, discovered that he rarely got beyond the substitutes bench.

Having joined the Belfast club as a schoolboy, he won a host of honours at underage level including two cup and three league medals with the Colts, and also a 'B' Division Championship medal with the Swifts.

The glory of playing for Linfield was great and he enjoyed his years there, but the opportunity he craved to make it into the first team week in week out never materialised.

When Roy Walker brought him to the Shore Road club his dream seemed to have come true. But, after that spell on the sidelines and his failure to command a regular slot, he became disillusioned once more.

Then came the chance to join Larne and he jumped at it. Injury once more threatened his progress but, after regaining full fitness he was an instant hit this time, and he finished last season as top scorer with 14 goals.

"I'm enjoying it tremendously. The club has obvious financial problems but the players showed their feelings for the management and supporters by voluntarily taking a cut in wages last year to play their part in our survival." he revealed.

"Not many groups of players would have done that, but that is an indication of how much we enjoy playing for Larne. Everybody at the club works hard, none more so than manager Shay Hamill. He has a great rapport with us. I'm enjoying my football more than ever before and I just hope I can keep on scoring plenty of goals for the club." said the 25 year-old Storeman.

Kevin Hughes.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Goals or to be precise, the lack of goals, dominated the 1995/96 season for Linfield. Beginning with the controversial departure of Garry Haylock, top scorer for the previous two seasons, the main talking point among fans at the start of the new Premier League set up was could he be replaced. Nine long barren months later after enduring a full month without a single goal the same fans were reflecting on this fact, the combined tally of Linfield's top four goalscorers didn't match Haylocks total for Portadown!

Paul Millar's 13 goals was the lowest post war total for Linfield's leading goalscorer and even more depressing on this front was the poor contribution of 7 goals from Darren Erskine recruited to fill the void after Haylock's departure. After the high of Liverpool's visit to Windsor Park in early August Linfield got down to business with an unsuccessful tiring trip to the Ukraine in the European Cup-Winners' Cup. The Wilkinson Sword League Cup provided Linfield with an early victory over cross town rivals Glentoran but the interest in this competition ended at Shamrock Park with the first of three penalty kick deciders the club were to contest. In the Ulster Cup a meeting with Crusaders in the semi-final produced one of the highlights of the season with a traditional spirited performance from a young Linfield side forced by injury to use reserve goalkeeper Andrew Caldwell in an outfield role. The Blues once again overcame Glentoran in the quarter-final of the Gold Cup despite being reduced to ten men when Dessie Gorman was sent-off. However Linfield were to lose both the Ulster and Gold Cup Finals to Portadown and Crusaders respectively

In the inaugural Premier League the Belfast Blues didn't offer a serious challenge after a very indifferent first half of the season. The inability to put together a consistent run meant the end to the club's season following their exit from the Irish Cup at Seaview in early March. The clashes with Crusaders in particular had a significant impact on the Blues progress in 1995/96 as in nine meetings with the Shore Road club Linfield managed to win only one!

Injuries to key players including newcomers Stuart McLean and Alan Byrne made team selection difficult for manager Trevor Anderson at crucial stages of the season but this wasn't offered as an excuse as other clubs suffered similar losses. The return of David Jeffrey as assistant manager in April was seen by many supporters as the first step to restoring passion and commitment within the club and the promised close season signings must prove themselves worthy of the task ahead. Too often during last season performances didn't match the stature of the players brought into the side, many recruited by Linfield on the strength of their reputation with other clubs. Although several young players were groomed during periods of injury and suspension with some success, the quality in depth would appear to be low judging by the number of fringe players transfer listed in May.

PLAYER PROFILE - IAN MCCOOSH

Linfields' tough tackling all rounder Ian McCoosh has been at Windsor Park nine years although it is only within the past four seasons that he has made his presence felt. He joined Linfield in August 1987, a few months before his sixteenth birthday from Lisburn Youths, the former team of clubmate John Easton.

Ian's progress in Linfield Rangers side was hampered by two separate leg breaks over an eighteen month period, but this sickening experience was only a temporary setback for the brave Lisburn lad.

The first representative appearance of his career was made before his initial leg break when capped at Under 16 Youth level against Greece at Coleraine in September 1987. Further honours were gained at the end of 1988/89 season when again selected for the Northern Ireland Youth side this time at Under-17 level when he played against Scotland in Glasgow and the Republic of Ireland at Mourneview Park.

Whilst starring in the Rangers side Ian, in a defensive role, won two IFA Youth Cup medals and helped his team-mates Crawford McCrae, Noel Bailie, Darrin Wallace and David McCallan, all future first teamers, to many trophy successes in Dunmurry and District League.

The experience gained playing in the Lige Under-20 Tournament in July 1988 prepared Ian when promoted later that year to the Swifts side where he initially occupied a defensive position, but gradually with his eye for goalscoring opportunities moved to an attacking midfield role.

Two successive 'B' Division Championship medals were followed by a winners medal in the 1991 Lige Tournament and a further representative honour in a Junior International against North Wales Coast F.A. when he scored one of Northern Ireland's goals.

Season 1991/92 saw him established as midfield anchorman in a Swifts side regularly complimented with first team players assisting his development at Windsor Park. Ian's goalscoring tally increased dramatically during this season with a couple of hat-tricks bringing him into double figures for the first time. Every medal except the Steel & Sons Cup was won during his spell in a very talented Swifts side.

The breakthrough to senior football came during Eric Bowyer's rein as Linfield manager and Ian's full debut was made against Coleraine on 5th September 1992 having already made six appearances as sub.. Within 16 weeks a first senior winners medal (the Ulster Cup) and his first senior goal, against Carrick Rangers, were confidently achieved.

In the past four seasons Ian has made 128 first team appearances with 15 goals to his credit and although not always an automatic choice he has nevertheless continued to give 110% commitment when selected. 'Basher', as he is known to fans and colleagues alike, attracted the attention of Glenavon a few seasons back but is firmly committed to Linfield his only senior club.

Linfield fans sincerely hope that Ian's thunderbolt goal against Portadown in last season's Ulster Cup Final will be repeated more often in the future as the powerhouse, who works as motor mechanic, continues to provide the drive in the Blues engine room.

Michael Rudd.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Newry Town Football Club's Management Committee, Players and supporters must have been very much relieved to see the end of the 1995/96 season.

Throughout the whole period enthusiasm was at a very low ebb and this was reflected in all departments throughout the club.

True, the club started the season off on a bright note, but a series of defeats didn't help it's cause and from there on it was a struggling outfit

True, unlike other First Division clubs, Newry Town were fortunate to be at home to several top Premier League teams in various cup competitions, but, unfortunately, the main bulk of supporters of these clubs didn't think it was worth their while coming to Newry as the results were a forgone conclusion and as a consequence gate receipts suffered.

Home support, too, dwindled away and only the really dedicated fans turned up to support the club at home games, but they got very little to cheer about. Then, just when it seemed as if Newry Town were about to turn the corner with a good cup run in prospect, their manager, Peter Watson, resigned, and this certainly didn't help matters. The resignation signalled the return of Matt Bradley as the club's manager. Matt, it will be recalled, steered the club to great heights in the late eighties, when he took over the position the club was in a more-or-less similar position after the resignation of Jim Hume.

On this occasion, however, try as he did, Matt Bradley was unable to steer Newry Town away from the 'wooden spoon' position in the League table and for the second time since the club returned to the senior scene in 1983 Newry Town had the embarrassment of having to reapply for senior status. They were duly reinstated at the expense of the up and coming Donegal Celtic, the Intermediate League side

After the last ball had been kicked to end the disastrous season, the 'few men' still at the helm of the sinking club vowed to battle on and stated that never again would Newry Town be placed in such an embarrassing position.

At the Annual General Meeting there was a feeling of renewed determination prevailing and this could well result in a new lease of life oozing through all ranks of the club in the years to come.

Manager Matt Bradley has a mammoth task on his hands to make Newry Town a force in the First Division this coming season, but he has been in this position with the club before so there is a glimmer of hope for Newry Town's long suffering supporters.

Jimmy Davis.

PLAYER PROFILE - JIM BARR

A through and through Newry man who was deemed a few years ago as not being good enough to play senior football for his home town club, was in February 1996 presented with the Bass Irish Cup 'Personality of the Round' following Newry Town's shock 2-1 defeat of Coleraine.

When 27 year old Jim Barr, who resides in Newry, joined Newry Town from National League of Ireland club Finn Harps in September 1992, he was unable to command a permanent place on the team and his senior football career seemed over when he decided to join local Carnbane League club Park View.

However Jim decided to give Irish League football one last crack when he again 'came home' at the beginning of last season.

At first he wasn't very impressive as it looked as if he once again was going to lose his chance to establish a reputation for himself in the Irish League, but his perseverance to keep going and his determination to improve his game eventually won him a permanent place in the Newry team.

Jim Barr started his Irish League career with Newry Town back in the late eighties, but after just one substitute appearance against Ards in 1987 Jim felt it was better to kick start his career elsewhere and joined League of Ireland side Monaghan United in October 1989.

After two successful seasons with Monaghan, where he not only won a regular place in the team but also ended up top scorer in his second season at Gortakeegan, Jim signed for First Division club Finn Harps in the summer of 1991. He lasted only one season with the Co.Donegal side, before deciding to return home.

The introduction of Promotion and Relegation in the Irish League has so far had a disastrous effect on the smaller clubs like Newry Town. Whereas the likes of Portadown and Linfield can splash out £30/40 thousand on a proven goalscorer, Newry Town have to rely on the home grown talents of players such as Jim Barr. If in the forthcoming season Jim can match or better his 15 goal tally of the last campaign then who knows what lies in store for the local boy made good!

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Town's 1995/96 season started with a heart stopping League Cup victory at Loughgall in August, 3-1 down with nine minutes left they scrambled back to draw level and won the match in extra time with a wonder goal from full back Stephen Johnston. This victory put Town on their way to an eventual semi-final outing against Crusaders who were to prove too tough a nut to crack in this and the Gold Cup semi-final in December.

The introduction of former Republic of Ireland U.21 International Michael McHugh added an extra bite up front and the young Ramelton man was to top the scoring charts with 25 goals, a club record. McHugh however only hit form late in the season, too late for an impression to be made on Coleraine's runaway lead at the top of the table.

In the League it was a case of so near yet so far, on 28th October a victory at Distillery would have put Town top, a point would have put them level on top, sadly a late goal for the Whites denied Omagh the points and left them in third position. From then on the season went on a roller coaster ride, a run of bad form in November and mixed fortunes over Christmas sealed Town's fate in the new First Division and another difficult season in the basement of the Irish League.

The inaugural Irish News Cup kicked off in December with Omagh eventually meeting Coleraine in the Final, a 12-2 aggregate defeat was avenged in the North West Cup Final with Town hammering the Bannsidiers 5-1 in the April decider.

Dungannon were ousted in the Irish Cup fifth round but were defeated 3-1 in the next round by Champions elect Portadown who avenged their Gold Cup defeat by Omagh at St.Julians Road.

On the awards front Michael McHugh's four goals at Ballyclare in April earned him a 'Crystal Ball' and Joe McBreartys third clean sheet in a month earned him the monthly goalkeeper award.

The forthcoming season is virtually make or break for not only Omagh Town but for all First Division teams. Basically the only way to survive is to win promotion, no doubt that's what Roy McCreadie plans to do. What Town wouldn't give for another 25 McHugh goals this season!

PLAYER PROFILE - MARK DONNELLY

Mark Donnelly played his first game in an Omagh Town shirt when he was 14 albeit in the youth team but still the young Donnelly, who had only recently come to Omagh from Portlough, was already creating a buzz whenever he appeared.

Coming from a footballing family it was always expected that youngest in the household Mark would also make his 'mark' in the footballing world. 'ODGIE' as he is known, played with Town reserves before Danny Rouse brought him into the first team along with the likes of Davy Malcomson, Brendan Johns, Paul McAnea and brothers Trevor and Liam Donnelly.

Mark was by now making a name for himself whether it was defending or attacking. He went for a trial to Dundee before going to Dungannon Swifts, Ards and Monaghan United before returning to the fold at Omagh when the club entered Senior Soccer in 1990.

In 1994 Donnelly collected the supporters 'Player of the Year' and in 1995 he won a 'Guinness Player of the Month' award. However the illustrious club 'Player of the Year' award has eluded him mainly due to injuries and suspensions.

A hard hitting centre-half who has indeed been an accomplished striker in his day, Mark Donnelly is one of the most popular players at Omagh Town and indeed in the Irish League. Well known as a fiery soul Mark has mellowed with age (he's now 29) but will always give 100% and knock in the odd goal.

Mark, married to Donna has a daughter and lives in Omagh as does his footballing brothers Liam and Trevor. Liam now plays in the Fermanagh and Western League with Shelbourne while Trevor is with Fivemiletown.

Summary of 1995/96 Season

Portadown climaxed a glorious and in some ways an astonishing season by winning the inaugural Premier League Championship and finishing with three trophies - just one less than their greatest ever season in 1990/91.

Manager Ronnie McFall had every reason to feel proud as he reflected on the success of a Portadown season which was blighted for long spells by legislative hassle. At one time the Ports were booted out of the Ulster Cup after defeating Crusaders in the final because the authorities held that Gareth Fulton, their talented young full back was not eligible. Portadown were eventually reinstated and allowed to keep the trophy and Fulton was cleared, but not before there had been threats of the matter finishing up in the Courts.

Then there was the furore over the signing of ex-Linfield man Garry Haylock, with Portadown appearing at one time to have signed the Yorkshireman without having to pay a fee. Once again the threats of litigation swirled around and in the end Portadown and Linfield reached on a fee.

In the Premier League campaign Portadown looked well on the way to fulfilling expectations when after only eleven games they had eight wins and three draws under their belt. The first doubts began to appear when they lost their first game to Linfield in December and when on New Year's day closest challengers Crusaders won a titanic battle 3-1 at a tension filled Seaview to really throw the title race open. Portadown managed to stop the losing run with a nervous scoreless draw against Bangor at Clondeboy Park and then thrashed the impressive Cliftonville 4-1. However, Ards really upset the applecart in a snowstorm at Shamrock Park in January when they deservedly won 3-1. It was a test of character for Portadown and they responded with fighting draws against Glentoran and Linfield, but a sensational 7-0 defeat at the hands of Glenavon at Mourneview Park in February was a milestone. Portadown had been minus half a team through injury in that game, but the result still merited a council of war and at a no-holds barred session Ronnie McFall called on his players to prove they had what it takes to win titles.

From then on it was roses all the way, and Portadown recovered their poise with a 1-1 draw against Crusaders in a game McFall's men couldn't afford to lose - defeat would have allowed the Belfast side to open a gap at the top of the table.

After the crunch game with Crusaders, Portadown won five on the trot before their penultimate game at home to great rivals Glenavon and it was an afternoon which was to decide the destination of the Premier League. Portadown had to battle like tigers to win 2-1 and it was roars of jubilation when word came through on hundreds of transistors that Cliftonville had beaten Crusaders, the one team who could have pipped the Ports. It also spoiled what would have been a deciding game at Seaview in the last match and transformed this into a day of Portadown victory celebrations.

Having achieved so much in the face of adversity it was hardly surprising that McFall was promising that given better luck with injuries his team will be in there bidding strongly to retain their title next campaign.

Brian Courtney.

PLAYER PROFILE - PETER KENNEDY

Peter Kennedy had no real challenger when it came to selecting Portadown's 'Player of the Year', in spite of the fact that there were others who contributed in no small measure to the team's highly successful season. Garry Haylock for one, and his 41 goals, were crucial in the push for the League Championship and the generally outstanding season. There were others like battling midfielder Robert Casey, reliable full back Philip Major, and tigerish Gregg Davidson, one of the finest competitors in the Irish League.

But Kennedy - 'PK' to his host of admirers - was simply the best and few observers would quarrel with that assessment. He was voted Guinness 'Player of the Year' by the Northern Ireland Football Writers, and also collected the prestigious Castlereagh Glentoran Supporters Club award - only the third Portadown player to do so since it was inaugurated.

Signed from deadly rivals Glenavon at the end of the previous season, Kennedy was in storming and relentless form for the season, only missing out in the closing weeks when an injury sidelined him for the final League games against Glenavon and Crusaders - and cruelly for him and Portadown - the Bass Irish Cup replay against the Lurgan Club.

But Kennedy had done enough to deserve the accolades and in the 49 matches he played he scored 18 goals, most of them in the memorable category.

Playing left side of midfield his creative and hard-running qualities were allied to lethal finishing, an explosive and exciting cocktail, and it was an asset which Portadown exploited to the full.

Kennedy also collected almost all the Portadown supporters club awards, and in spite of missing out in the final two games which clinched the championship the season finished on a high. His injury collected in the Bass Irish Cup semi-final had appeared at first to be crochet ligament damage, a worrying prospect for player and club. Fortunately the eventual diagnosis confirmed it was cartilage trouble and Kennedy quickly had the operation with the firm prospect of being in action in time for the start of the season.

"He is a super player and we are fortunate to have him" said manager Ronnie McFall, delighted that Kennedy signed a one-year extension to his contract just before the end of the season. How long Portadown can hold him is a valid question as cross-channel clubs were showing more than a passing interest in his form towards the end of the season.

Biggest surprise was that 'PK' wasn't selected for the Northern Ireland 'B' squad but if he continues to produce form on this scale in the new season, it will surely only be a matter of time before he forces himself into the reckoning.

Brian Courtney.

Celtic won their six titles in 1935/36; 1936/37; 1937/38; 1938/39; 1939/40 and then had to wait til after the war to win the 1947/48 Championship. Linfield achieved the feat more recently between 1981/82 and 1986/87.

MOST LEAGUE GOALS IN A SEASON: This record is held by Fred Roberts of Glentoran who scored 55 goals during 1930/31 season.

BASS IRISH CUP REVIEW 1995/96

Glentoran players celebrate their success over Glenavon after a six year gap.

(Photograph by Michael Reeves.)

With the proliferation of minor competitions, local football fans could be forgiven for asking who won what last season. It's very easy to lose interest if your team isn't involved. But there's one knock-out trophy which continues to capture the imagination of Ulster soccer year after year. The cup - the Bass Irish Cup of course.

And it's a piece of silverware which has a particularly special place in the hearts of Glentoran supporters. The Glens just couldn't stop winning it in the eighties, including five out of six from 1982 - 1988. They kicked off the nineties with a success in the competition as well, beating Portadown 3-0 in the Final at Windsor Park.

But they went into last season's cup on the back of six years of failure. And they made an inauspicious start in their bid to regain the trophy, going a goal down early on against 'B' Division no hopers Limavady United at the Oval in January.

The sixth round stage was a relatively comfortable 2-0 victory against Distillery at the Oval, goals there for Darren Finlay and Derek Cook, the Scottish striker who had netted twice against Limavady.

The quarter-finals saw two remarkable games against Ballymena. In the first, a scoreless draw at the Oval, Glens goalkeeper Declan Devine sustained back and facial injuries and was replaced by midfielder Pete Batey. Devine missed the replay, but made it back for the Final. Fit again Neil Armstrong returned for the quarter-final rematch at Ballymena Showgrounds, but couldn't prevent the home side racing into a 2-0 lead after 20 minutes.

It looked as if the cup dream had ended for Tommy Cassidy's team, but an inspired comeback sparked by a goal from ex-Ballymena defender Michael Smyth and completed with a Glen Little hat-trick, saw the Glens to a hard earned 4-2 victory against the First Division side.

The semi-final against Crusaders went to a second match as well. The Glens were saved by a goal from substitute Trevor Smith to give them a replay. Justin McBride scored a cracking goal in the rematch at Windsor and the Glens eventually went through 2-1 winners after a breathtaking last minute strike from Liam Coyle. Without doubt his most telling contribution during a short stay at the Oval and one Glenmen will remember him for in years to come.

The Final against Glenavon saw another deserved victory for the East Belfast side. They were on top for most of the match, but it took a late, long range wonder goal from Glen Little to secure a 1-0 win, the Cup and a place in Europe. For a change, Little didn't pick up the 'man-of-the-match' award, that went to full-back Darren Finlay who had an outstanding game against Stevie McBride in what proved to be his last match for the Lurgan club.

Peter Taggart.

* Ulster Cup not played for in 1951/52, instead the Festival of Britain Cup was played for which was won by Ballymena United.

It was becoming a bit of a standing joke in local soccer circles, Cliftonville record in knock-out competitions.

Not only did they have an alarming habit of falling at the semi-final and final hurdles, but their failure in penalty kick shoot-outs was legend. "Some reports said we had lost twenty in a row, but that's a bit of an exaggeration," explains manager Marty Quinn. "But in the past decade I think we only were successful once in penalty shoot-outs."

The main problem for Quinn and Co. of course was their failure to win a trophy. Fifteen barren years at Solitude was hard to stomach for all concerned.

But after flat beer for a decade and a half the Reds finally got the real thing in 1995/96 - the Coca-Cola Cup.

Marty Quinn was a member of the Solitude side that lifted the Gold Cup in the 1980/81 season and he put players in the picture about what was required this time around. "I told them that they couldn't continue to let themselves and the fans down in these competitions. I told them we had the quality to win trophies and that people were saying we just didn't have the determination to do it. They were desperate to prove the critics wrong and they did."

The path to the final started at St.Julian's Road in Omagh where the Reds scored a 1-0 first-leg win, enough to take them through after the Solitude rematch ended 1-1. Two goals from new signing Paul Stokes helped them to a 3-0 success against First Division champions-elect Coleraine in the quarters, and Ards were 3-1 semi-final victims, goals there for Stokes, Gary Sliney, and loan signing from Wrexham Jonathan Cross. A comfortable victory, and the same in the Final. The same score as the semi as well, Glentoran well beaten by the Reds at their second home Windsor Park. Tim McCann, Cross and Stokes were the Cliftonville marksmen in a night to remember. Manager Quinn has the last word. "Yes it was nice to end up in the winners' enclosure at last. It was a memorable occasion, really well organised by the sponsors and very enjoyable. It gave the players and fans a taste for success and I'm sure it won't be another fifteen years before we win another trophy!"

Peter Taggart.

A REVIEW OF THE PROGRAMMES IN NORTHERN IRELAND 1995/96

By JOHN DUFFY HON. SECRETARY
NORTHERN IRELAND FOOTBALL PROGRAMME COLLECTORS CLUB

At the Annual Football Programme Fair held on the last Saturday in May our Club once again made the presentation of the 'Programme of the Year Award' Glentoran were very worthy winners for the first time since the award was inaugurated in 1983/84 season. It was a close run thing with Glenavon only one point adrift and Portadown a further point away. Last season was a difficult season from a programme point of view especially in the First Division as some teams did not issue any programmes while others chose to issue for the bigger matches. Again in 1996/97 season I would expect the same trend to be repeated. In our awards in 1994/95 we were critical of the price Glenavon charged i.e. £1.50 and we are pleased to see that they took that criticism on board as they reduced the price to £1.00.

On the International front we continue to produce one of the best programmes in the British Isles and it does represent very good value for money. Billy Kennedy has been the editor for over 20 years and still manages to produce the goods. Sometimes I feel it carries too many adverts, but I also realise the economics of producing a programme. For some of our smaller matches the print run has been of the order of 2,500 and this does not give much scope for error. The Irish Football Association also deserve credit for having programmes for all their Finals like the Youth Cup and Intermediate Cup. Once again we had the joint issue for the Irish Cup semi-finals which are again a necessary evil otherwise we will not have a programme. The same applies to the Irish Football League who also had programmes for all their semi-finals and finals. The semi finals were all joint except the Sun Life Gold Cup which had two separate issues. You may remember there was a dispute between Glenavon and the Irish league which delayed one half of the draw.

Again at this time it is good to say thanks to all those junior sides who took the trouble to produce programmes. Here pride of place must go to Loughall who issued for every home game, the man behind it is Jim McCrea (Jnr.) who does an excellent job as Editor and his is an example that many other clubs could follow. Armagh City fell by the wayside somewhat last season as they only managed a very small number of programmes.

Finally a mention is due to the smaller Associations such as the County Antrim F.A. who had programmes for the Senior Shield semi finals and the final plus the Steel & Sons final. They even went to the trouble of having a wrap round sheet issued for the replayed final. The original issue was sold with the addition of the extra four pages. Good luck to all those with an interest in programme collecting

(Brought to you in association with ARCONADA.....ARMSTRONG ! on location in Corfu!)

Well hey, This'll be a quickie this year then. The simple question is 'Are we in a better position than we were this time last year?' Now think; this time last year means only one thing. Latvia. Remember them? You may recall the shameful 2-1 hammering we took at their hands. A match, which had we won or drawn it, would have put us in the play-off against Holland. Suffice to say, a year ago we were the worst team in the world, ever, without exception. now were not. We are far from being the best team in the world, well out of the top 30, but I think were better than our FIFA ranking in the low fifties indicates.

This season has seen us play a total of six games. Three were in a tournament I had long since given up hope in, and three were in friendlies. So basically all six were fairly non-competitive matches, or at least did not have the pressure of needing the points.

Versus Liechtenstein - We scored some goals. Four of them in fact, and none of them were rubbish. It was a good training exercise I guess, but it was, due to UEFA's bizarre rules, utterly meaningless. That stout, proud Ulsterman Trevor Wood made his debut. He played for the 'Jersey', knocked some good balls into the 'Channels' and even though he only got twenty minutes, he didn't 'Guern', see? (No need to be Sark-y).

Versus Portugal - we played superbly. Our tactics were spot on, but then, after all it was an away match. Fettis was marvellous, but when we went 1-0 down we looked on for a hiding. However a brilliant free-kick by Hughes screamed into the (albeit off Dowie's backside) for a deserved equaliser.

Versus Austria - Okay, so our pride made a comeback in Portugal, but now we were at home against a side in with a chance of qualification for EURO 96. Naturally we would go to pieces. We'd gone through the entire series unbeaten away - something I don't recall us doing before - but we'd lost it spectacularly at home. We were out - we'd thought we were out even before Latvia - but now we knew that even a point then would have left us with real hope. One more point anywhere would have done. The truth was now horrible. A win tonight, coupled with a defeat in Portugal for the Republic would leave us level on points, but out because of that 4-0 defeat at Windsor by Jack's Boys. That hurt. the team owed us one. So instead, they gave us five and we finished the series in a style totally alien to all followers of Northern Ireland. We let in three and we didn't care, because we'd scored five, rounded off with the kind of goal from O'Neill that I thought the European Parliament had barred British teams from even attempting.

We were out, sure, but we'd remembered how to play football. Hamilton duly had his contract renewed and there wasn't a fan in the land who would have argued against it that November night. He'd taken us as close to qualifying as we'd been since 1984 (when we would have made it under UEFA's 1996 ruling).

There was an inkling that we may have a chance in the next series given a favourable draw (you know, favourable draws - those things dished out in their dozens to England, Scotland and the Republic.). Regardless of what the IFA think - we did not get a good draw.

Armenia - unknown; Ukraine - scary; Albania - sound like a soft touch, but then you thought Turkey were a soft touch until recently; Portugal - the one second seeded team we just had to avoid; Germany - well I guess there had to be one easy team in there somewhere!

Nonetheless, we can do it. We have a few quality players, and reasonable competition for places. We have had three very different friendlies to try out various ideas and players. If we were not ready now, well we never will be with the current crop. Fettis has come on well in the past year, Hill and Hunter have shown they work well together, Griffen had a fine debut, the midfield of Hughes, Lomas, Lennon and Gillespie looks strong and well balanced. Dowie is a star who needs a regular partner. Add to those, Tommy Wright, Rowland, Taggart, Fleming, Magilton, O'Neill, O'Boyle, Mulryne, Gray and McMahon and the future starts to look a little less murky.

As I said, the friendlies were different. We were very poor against Norway, who were missing two of their stars in Bohinen and Leonhardsen. The only good thing to come out of this was the inclusion of a 'B' International match, something which we applaud Bryan Hamilton for, and something which must continue and eventually (sooner rather than later) must burn into a competitive Under-21 team.

Against Sweden we fielded what was virtually a 'B' team due to withdrawals because of injuries. McMahon scored an excellent goal and showed some silky touches which made you wonder what he was doing in Spurs reserves for most of the season.

When Germany arrived we put on our standard show, ending up unlucky to only draw due to the euphoria of going ahead lasting slightly too long. This match saw us crowned as moral Champions of Europe (again) as we beat the Germans on penalties, Klinsmann side-footing wide and Moller blasting high over the top. Are you watching Ingerland?

So, on we go, towards France. Till we meet again next year, just one point short of automatic qualification, au revoir, mes petts.

Neil Lennon - An Appreciation

Neil Lennon should, in my opinion, be one of the first names on the team sheet for our International games. People may argue the case for Dowie, Gillespie, Lomas and these days remarkably even Fettis. Isn't it nice though, to have to even think who our best player might be?

Neil is the kind of player we have been without for what seems like an age - the type who wants the ball, knows how and where to get it, and can do something positive with it when he gets it. We just haven't had that battling, hard tackling, creative and, yes ginger kind of player for far too long. Well except for Steve Lomas, but he's not really ginger, is he?

Neil Lennon started his career in the Irish League with Glenavon, before signing for Manchester City, who also had Gerry Taggart and Gary Fleming on their books at the time and who were about to sign Michael Hughes. After just one appearance for the Maine Road outfit he went to the 'Pride of Cheshire', Crewe Alexandra (of whom I am a fan!). It is impossible to read anything about Crewe without the word's "it is impossible to write anything about Crewe without mentioning the likes of David Platt, Geoff Thomas, Rob Jones and John Pemberton" appearing. It is however a fact that the club has a great reputation for bringing on youngsters and other clubs' 'rejects', and thus, although it was a step down for Neil, it was still a positive move.

He made quite an impact at Gresty Road, and by the time I first saw him in the red and white of the Alex in 1994/95 he had already made his International debut during the tour of '94. It was obvious he was the star player in a typically erratic Crewe side, but he was by no means as regular in the International set-up.

Midway through 1995/96 it was obvious Neil was going to make his big move away from Crewe. I was actually surprised we'd held on to him as long as we did. Eventually it was announced he was off to Coventry to join Ron Atkinsons' batch of recent big money signings. He had agreed terms, but somehow felt it wasn't quite right. On discussing the matter with his parents he decided against the move, feeling that at 24, although he still had a long career ahead, he had to make sure this move was the right one.

So Neil turned down the chance to join a struggling Premiership side and instead joined up with Martin O'Neill at Leicester City, a team hopeful of being a struggling Premiership outfit. I am sure this will turn out to be a good choice as Neil is just the type of player Leicester need to help them prolong their stay in the top League.

WILKINSON SWORD IRISH LEAGUE 'B' DIVISION

REVIEW OF THE 1995/96 SEASON

The highlight of the 'B' Division season was the achievement of Loughgall in becoming the first Champions for more than twenty years to take the title out of Belfast in successive seasons. Their success was a triumph for manager Alfie Wylie and if he had more money to spend on paying players than any other manager he seemed to have the knack of spending it wisely to build a team which held off the challenge of neighbours Dungannon Swifts who again flattered to deceive. However Dungannon did have the consolation of finishing second and winning the Bob Radcliffe Cup, now the most significant of the three Divisional cup competitions.

At the other end of the table Queen's University had a disastrous season. For some years now the majority of 'B' Division clubs have not regarded the university teams as valued members of the League, an away fixture on an exposed playing field with no cover or even hard standing does not present a very appealing prospect to either players or spectators. Stranmillis withdrew from the League in the 1980's, both University of Ulster teams failed to gain re-election and this year Queen's, who had only won two matches all season, suffered the same fate. They will be replaced by the Londonderry club Institute, so for the first time all 'B' Division games will be played on enclosed pitches.

The other struggling clubs, Cookstown United and Ballymoney United, had a difficult year too, though the Ballymoney club is now well established at the Showgrounds in the town and seem to have put any off-field problems behind them. Millbank Park, Cookstown on the other hand continues to be a millstone around the necks of the other applicant for re-election. Situated more than two miles from the town and a long way from the nearest main road, the club house has continued to be a frequent target for burglars while the combination of a struggling team and a remote location has failed to capture the imagination of the local population.

A club which has been along the same route, apart from the break-ins, is Armagh City which moved the three miles from its roots to the city of Armagh eight years ago and has just completed its second season at Holm Park. The transition from perennial struggle to mid-table security seems complete even if success is still some way away with manager Stephen Uprichard finding it difficult to sustain the improvement of his promising first season in charge. Chimney Corner, whose move a few years earlier took them in the opposite direction from the centre of Antrim to a new ground a couple of miles out, had another solid season without looking like serious challengers for honours. The lack of support from the Antrim public remains a cause for some concern.

In south Londonderry Tobermore United, whose very survival seemed very doubtful a few years ago, have learned to live within their means and chairman Raymond Beatty had the satisfaction of presiding over a measure of improvement sufficient to lift them above local rivals Moyola Park. Moyola, one of the two oldest clubs in the League, have made great strides in recent years but their improvement, for now at least, seems to have come to an end.

Another village club competing successfully at this level is Ballinamallard United whose League progress in 1995 was hampered by their Intermediate Cup campaign. This time around they concentrated more on the League with their largely Omagh-based team progressing to the top half of the table. Whether or not the relative success, achieved as it is with few local players, leads to long term progress remains to be seen though it was interesting to note the level of local interest in Ballinamallard's highly successful second team which consists almost exclusively of Fermanagh players.

Turning to the Belfast area, Brantwood's welcome ground improvements were unfortunately not accompanied by improved playing standards with the departure of long serving manager Ivor McGuckin leaving a gap which proved difficult to fill in the short term. Harland & Wolff Welders, the only one of the League's fifteen survivors not to have a ground which met last seasons's Irish Cup requirements, had a reasonably successful season finishing 6th in the 'B' Division and more notably finishing runners-up to Limavady United in the Intermediate Cup. The R.U.C. again flattered to deceive, reserving their best performances for the cups, particularly the British Police Championship in which they again represented their Province with distinction.

As usual the best Intermediate team in Belfast were Dundela, though they lacked some of the sparkle of earlier years. The club suffered a grievous loss when their popular and long-serving defender Michael Goddard collapsed and died during the early season game with Dungannon Swifts, leaving a void which in several ways proved difficult to overcome.

In the end Loughgall's nearest challengers, for the second year running, were Dungannon where manager Colin Malone led his side into a position where they lost out only in the closing weeks of the season. This very ambitious club has now cover on all four sides of the ground and some rudimentary terracing on much of it, in line for meeting the IFA's latest changes to the rules governing the staging of games in the later rounds of the Irish Cup. Perhaps the biggest surprise of the season was the consistent improvement in performances of Banbridge Town, who were also in the running until very near the end of the season. The balance of power seems to have shifted firmly to Mid-Ulster at present.

Brian Weir.

NB: From 1951/52 to 1973/74 there was only one Section to the 'B' Division. This was made up of Irish League clubs Reserve teams and Intermediate clubs. From 1974/75 to 1975/76 the 'B' Division was split into North and South Sections with the winners of each being involved in a 'Play-off' to decide the overall winners. In 1975/76 the North and South Sections were retained though a 'Play-off' was not held, therefore Carrick Rangers and Dundela shared the Championship. In 1977/78 the 'B' Division was again restructured to its present day format, which is; Section One being made up of Intermediate clubs and Section Two containing Irish League clubs Reserve teams.
